ugnayan is a national youth-focused summit that gives the youth and institutions alike a venue to discuss a possible framework of development for the country and the world.

The page features several large, solid-colored triangles in maroon and green, positioned at the corners and edges. The maroon triangles are located in the top-left, top-right, and bottom-right areas, while the green triangles are in the top-right, bottom-left, and bottom-right areas.

A NATIONAL YOUTH SUMMIT THAT GIVES THE YOUTH AND INSTITUTIONS ALIKE
A VENUE TO DISCUSS
A POSSIBLE FRAMEWORK OF DEVELOPMENT
FOR THE COUNTRY
AND THE WORLD

The term ugnayan is a Filipino word that refers to the state of being connected of two or more things.

UGNAYAN is jointly organized by four student organizations in the Philippines

NATIONAL ALLIANCE OF YOUTH LEADERS
PRACTICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE-NATIONAL COLLEGE OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION AND
G O V E R N A N C E

JUNIOR PHILIPPINE SOCIETY OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
CHILDREN'S MUSEUM AND LIBRARY, INC.-
JUNIOR COUNCIL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

the organizers

The Children's Museum and Library, Incorporated, or more commonly known as CMLI, represented in this project by its Junior Council Alumni Association (CMLI - JCAA), is a non-stock and non-profit foundation working to promote the welfare and development of the Filipino youth. CMLI - JCAA focuses on youth empowerment through trainings and workshops on youth leadership and active social involvement. It provides executive training seminars and facilitators' training workshops to different elementary, high school, and college student council organizations.

The Junior Philippine Society of Public Administration, or JPSPA, is a collective of students of public administration and governance in the Philippines that actively promotes the discipline of public administration, governance, and public affairs. Considered as the youth organization of the Philippine Society of Public Administration (PSPA), it is composed of students of public administration and governance from the University of the Philippines, Polytechnic University of the Philippines, Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Valenzuela, Tarlac State University, Camarines Norte State College, and Cebu National University among others.

NATIONAL ALLIANCE OF YOUTH LEADERS

The National Alliance of Youth Leaders, or NAYL, is an alliance of student leaders in the Philippines uniting for reforms in education, youth empowerment and development, voter education, climate change justice, and other relevant societal issues. As a national youth alliance, it is committed to intensify massive information dissemination among the youth, to create linkages with different youth organizations for effective consultation and consolidation of ideas on reforms, and to lobby for all possible legislative and policy measures relating to the solutions at hand.

In the University of the Philippines - Diliman, Practice of Administrative Leadership and Service - National College of Public Administration and Governance, or PALS-NCPAG, is a socio-academic and political student organization where the principles of dynamism, accountability, accessibility, and excellence are at its core. It pursues projects and activities that aim to uplift students' awareness on different social and political issues in the college, the University, and the country.

dear youth

Greetings!

In 2015, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) will start transforming the Southeast Asia region into a one community, beginning with the integration of the economies of the ten member nations into a single market with free movement of goods and services. Five years after that, in 2020, the ASEAN will next integrate along the lines of politico-security and socio-cultural aspects. Now, how do we overcome challenges and pave opportunities for you and the Filipino youth in an integrated ASEAN?

Go, read on!

UGNAYAN is a national youth summit that gives the youth and institutions alike a venue to discuss a possible framework of development for the country and the world. In its first year this year, UGNAYAN 2015 will be a youth-focused national conversation on the ASEAN Integration, identifying the opportunities that will be available for the youth and as well as defining the challenges that might need to be faced and surpassed in the well-anticipated integrated ASEAN Community, with the theme of the national summit being: UGNAYAN SUMMIT 2015: "Islands of Opportunities for the Youth in an Integrated ASEAN"

about ugnayan 2015

The UGNAYAN SUMMIT 2015 is going to be a three-day national youth summit of the youth coming from various schools, colleges, universities, and youth organizations in the Philippines and in the region. In general, the summit is open to all undergraduate college students, especially the student leaders of college councils and/or organizations.

The summit aims to not just inform, but more importantly, to educate the youth of what is in-store for them in the coming ASEAN Integration in 2015.

Islands of Opportunities for the Youth in an Integrated ASEAN

It shall serve as the national platform for the youth to engage in productive discussions with one another to be able to come up with concrete and feasible action-plans or proposals for different involved stakeholders and the government to consider in identifying gaps and challenges as well as in maximizing opportunities for the youth and institutions alike brought by the ASEAN integration.
